

Saplings for a better tomorrow

Vasundhara, the Eco club of Kulachi Hansraj Model School, Ashok Vihar was established to sensitise students towards achieving a greener earth. The 14th Induction Ceremony of the club was presided over by Dr B C Sabata, Senior Scientific Officer, Department of Environment, Govt of NCT, Delhi.

He, along with school principal Sneh Verma and members of the club lit the lamp of knowledge. This was followed by a Prakriti Vandana sung by Rashi and Amrit from classes XI and XII respectively. The principal urged children to plant a tree on their respective birthdays and nurture it. Outgoing president Sanchit Jain presented the annual report of the previous year's activities undertaken by the club. Vasudha Kalra was inducted as the new President and Rashi Jain as the Vice President. The office bearers and members were decorated with badges. Thereafter, Dr Sabata and Dr Deshbandhu, President, Indian Environmental Society, administered the eco pledge. Students were motivated to work towards making their surroundings cleaner, greener and healthier. At the close of the event, the students along with teachers planted saplings in the school ground, with a promise to nurture them for a better tomorrow.
